

*Coaching strategies for team of teachers – Turn change into lasting education benefits.
#euneoscourses*

Coaching team of teachers- turn change into lasting benefits

“The mind is not a vessel to be filed but a fire to be kindled” – Plutarch

Coaching course in the Location of the “most famous coaching relationship in history Alexander the Great-Aristotle”

Location: Thessaloniki, Greece, EduAct Training Center

Participants:

- teachers any level
- principals and school administration
- sport teachers and school sport team coach
- school counselors

*Coaching strategies for team of teachers – Turn change into lasting education benefits.
#euneoscourses*

Objectives for this course:

- Support a culture of change in your school for schools as learning based organizations
- Empower teachers (and students) for learning together
- Ensure wellbeing in your school environment
- Develop and use active listening and autonomy to build the setting for self assessment and formative assessment
- Support teachers as decision capital for schools development
- Team teaching for holistic approach to learning and curriculum, building up coaching competences pre-requisites
- Group dynamics, support change at different levels especially group level for long lasting benefits (systemic approach)
- Coaching for new learning ways and environments
- Support measurable and traceable skills for teachers professional development (coaching competences according to ICF standards)

Impact of the course

- Increasing the effectiveness of the teams of teachers and involving members
- Increase productivity and increase performance
- Understanding the roles and contributions of team members
- Turning you into a valuable resource for school management
- Ensure a consistent training and professional development process
- Increasing the personal level of presence and power
- Discovering and removing personal blockages
- Discovering and removing teams limited beliefs
- Increasing the level of self-confidence
- Improving the perception of safety and professionalism

*Coaching strategies for team of teachers – Turn change into lasting education benefits.
#euneoscourses*

- Develop team and group coaching skills for students & teachers
- Verifying and perfecting the personal coaching model
- Providing and receiving consistent feedforward
- Learning from different schools cultures

At the end of the course, you will:

- Able to understand and act on the coaching competences in your teaching/managing/coaching team of teachers
- Able to act as internal coach for your colleagues
- Tools & methods to “coach more teach less” for student in the center
- Knowledge and skills to organize team teaching
- Instruments to empower colleagues, teachers, students
- Tools to support development of emotional intelligence of teams and groups in your school

Main Trainer/Organizer:

Andreea Gatman, Coach &Trainer